Handwritten musical notation for the first system of 'The Rose Tree'. It consists of two staves. The top staff is in treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#) and a 2/4 time signature. The bottom staff is in bass clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#). The melody is written on the top staff, and the bass line is on the bottom staff. The notation is handwritten and includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and bar lines. The first staff ends with a double bar line and a repeat sign. The second staff begins with a repeat sign and continues the melody. The notation is somewhat informal and appears to be a student's work.

Handwritten musical score for "The Rose Tree". The score is written on a single staff with a treble clef. It begins with a key signature of one flat (B-flat) and a common time signature (C). The melody is written in a simple, folk-like style. The first line of music is followed by a double bar line and the instruction "mf" (mezzo-forte). The second line of music ends with a double bar line and the instruction "(can repeat.)".
